Luxus Vacation Properties' Community Collaborations with AirSprint Provides Foundation for Successful Relationship

EDMONTON, AB – Luxus Vacation Properties (LVP) is committed to providing its Owners with the best investment experience and asset portfolio possible through its unique shared ownership model. As part of this commitment, LVP strategically collaborates with other companies and service providers to bring added value to its offerings and provide enhanced partner-exclusive benefits. For example, it has developed a solid relationship with AirSprint, a Calgary-based fractional air travel provider, after numerous collaborations.

AirSprint and LVP have had the opportunity to work together on several initiatives, most of which have been community-focused. For instance, LVP first collaborated with AirSprint to present an amazing auction package at the Stollery Children's Hospital Foundation's 13th Annual Snowflake Gala in 2009. When LVP hosted its inaugural charity golf tournament for the Children's Wish Foundation in 2010, it partnered again with AirSprint to put together a great line-up of auction prize packages for the event.

Recently, AirSprint sponsored an event put on by Dreams Take Flight, a national non-profit organization, and approached LVP with yet another opportunity. The two worked together to create a complete vacation package that included donated air time from AirSprint and time at LVP's Vernon, B.C., vacation property in spring 2011. Their common interest in helping the community has created the foundation for a strong relationship, and their community collaborations continue today.

In addition to having a community focus and mutual respect for each other, the two also share similar business philosophies, values, and goals. Both have an ownership base whose shared ownership needs overlap, and both offer services that relate well to each other; LVP offers exclusive shared ownership in a vacation properties portfolio, while AirSprint offers fractional ownership options in private air travel. Both companies felt it was natural to continue their collaborative approach and pursue opportunities together since they were similarly aligned.

LVP looks forward to collaborating with AirSprint on future opportunities and continuing this mutually beneficial relationship. For more information about Luxus Vacation Properties, visit www.luxusgroup.com/vacation-properties/ or contact the Luxus team at 780.467.5521.
